FLAMA ROJA CAVA

Despite the name, this wine is not red or hot. However, being Spanish, it will never admit this.

conceptual doppelgänger

There are so many similarities between Bubbles the Chimp (Michael Jackson's pal) and Flama Roja Cava, that I'm loath to point out the obvious, but I will anyway: they're both fun, slightly mischevious, occassionally sweet, give off an earthy minerally aroma and each loves brunch immensely. Jeff Koons' rendition of said chimp in gold really captures the essence of Flama Roja!

Winemaker	Joan Rabada
Alcohol	12%
Grapes	50% Macabeo/50% Parellada - Parellada produces finer wines with lighter body. Xare-lo, no present in the blend, makes this a less earthy, fresher, more elegant style of Cava.
Region	Catalonia
Sub-Region	Tarragona
ATM	5.6 bar
Closure	Cork
Size	750ml
Producer	Castell d'Or is a group of cooperative cellars from different wine areas in Catalonia. The Flama Roja is produced by Vila-Rodona, in the sub-region of Tarragona.
Viti/Vini	Sustainable. Hand-harvested. Maximum yields are 1hl of must for very 150kg of grapes. A mild first press is clarified and taken to the fermentation vats. The wine is then blended and bottled for the second fermentation. Aged a minimum 14 months on lees.
