Some actresses have the luxury of selection. They pick and choose the roles that cultivate an aura which grows with each successful portrayal of someone else. Ultimately the culmination of these expressions produces a star to which nothing but accolades accumulate for each successive selective divination of their character - as themselves! Sure, you may not consider Maude Adams a household name, but her reverence in all the right places makes her an easy pick when searching for something wonderful and classic with all the bona fides to back it up. Below you can see her as French heroine, Joan of Arc. Spoiler Alert: it doesn't end well, but is brilliant just the same.

VITI VINI Sustainably farmed off of a single plot in the climate of Arfentières. De-stemmed and crushed, natural primary and malolactic fermentation in stainless steel. 9 months on lees. Protein stabilized, filtered, and bottled 11 months after harvest.

PRODUCER Pierre Meurgey was born in 1959 at the Hospices de Beaune, one of the region's greatest vintages, and at one of its most historic locations. The fourth generation of passionate Burgundy winemakers, Pierre has a Burgundian soul. After spending decades producing wine for notable Domaine in the region, in 2014 he and his wife, Marion, set out to produce their own wine. Pierre's family is from Uchizy and his Maconnais roots make the area is quite special for him. Entrenched in the region and committed to the specificity of the "Climats de Bourgogne" he vinifies and bottles with the care of a craftsman whose primary aim is to respect the terroir. Paul Croses is Pierre Meurgey's grandfather and the label is an ode to him. They work with trusted growers where they have deep relationships. The aim is to produce top quality Burgundy at accessible prices.
